"SCHOOL Supplies"

An appeased appetite is one of the most important factors in school life. It quiets the nerves, enables the child to concentrate his thoughts more readily, and he can give his best to the necessary study. If his hunger is constantly reverting to "hungry" "how" "huh?"

Don't let him go to school hungry—and have a nice lunch when he returns in the evening. Call us up and let us supply you with some mighty appetizing lunch goods to keep on hand during school days.

And, at the same time let us supply your table with all the things for the regular diet. Get wise to where the best, freshest things are handled and remember our "no minimum, no short weight" policy.

An association of Mexicans and Greeks is building a structure south of the Denver and Rio Grande depot for business and lodging house purposes. The place is thirty by sixty feet and two stories. The same people have been for some time conducting the lodging house at the old manure factory.

Mrs. R. C. Green, who recently underwent an operation at Latter-day Saints Hospital at Salt Lake City for appendicitis, was discharged from the institution last Wednesday morning. Dr. E. P. Chamberlain, who operated with the assistance of Dr. J. F. Sharp, will bring Mrs. Green home tomorrow (Saturday).

Mrs. E. W. Little recently entertained a small party of friends at bridge at her home at Helper. Mrs. E. W. Gregg won the point prize and Mrs. James Moore the honor. A most delightful three-course luncheon was served. Those present were Messdames Avery, Moore, Warren, Snyder, Thiele, Gregg, McGuire and Thompson.

Mrs. C. H. Hall of Helper a few evenings ago entertained several friends at a Kensington, the occasion being the birthday of her mother, Mrs. Ashton. A most beautiful birthday cake was a part of the dainty luncheon served. Those present were Messdames Warren, Snyder, Dyer, Moore, Avery, Smiley, Thiele and Shampacker.

Rio-Argentine Mining company with offices at Salt Lake City is advertising an assessment of its capital stock of a half cent a share, due on the 2d of November last. Any stock upon which the assessment remains unpaid on the 2d of October will be sold. Considerable of this stock is held at Price and in other towns and camps of Carbon county.

The Sun is under obligations to R. C. Lee of the Nine Mile section for a sack of fine potatoes of the Red Willow variety. They were grown on the Lee ranch and go above four hundred bushels to the acre. They are the equal of anything seen hereabouts this season, and every one of them prize winners if on exhibition at a county or state fair.

Arthur & Co. are at this time and have been for several months supplying most of the meats sold by local dealers. Very few cattle and hogs are being butchered here for the block at Price. With the coming of cold weather pork, at least, promises to be cheaper than at present. Butchers and peddlers will soon begin selling it direct to the consumer.

Sweet clover seed is going to be in big demand. People in the Middle West are just beginning to realize the value of sweet clover as a fertilizer. The present price is as high as thirteen cents a pound. Sweet clover seed is a more sure crop than alfalfa seed and the production per acre is more. Miss Kate L. Heiser of Castle Gate is the new teacher at Iuka in the Utah Basin.

Denton Randolph, ex-county commissioner and manager of the company store at Kendwirth, is going to move his family to Price as soon as a dwelling may be secured. There have been rumors for some time of the gentleman's resignation at Kendwirth, but up to Tuesday afternoon there had been no bulletin issued by the management at Salt Lake City, as customary.

Once upon a time, not so very long ago either, any farmer was delighted to sell his chickens at three dollars per dozen. It is different today. Poultry is sold by weight. Any "setting" hen or a pink rooster that gives evidence of sex, costs the consumer from sixty-five cents up. Eggs, too, should be sold by weight. Maybe that would even things between the seller and the purchaser.

The secretary of the treasury reports that $2,481,469.33 has been collected as national forest receipts for the recently closed fiscal year. One-fourth of this amount or more than $620,000 is to be returned to the various states wherein the national forests are located and an additional 10 per cent is to be used in building roads. Under these provisions Utah receives $48,675.96 and $15,475.23.

Thomas Averill is back home from Salt Lake City, where he had a tryout with Blankenship's team last week and came up to all measurements. He has signed up conditionally for next season and is to report to the Salt Lake City aggregation on February 22, 1916, when the team goes to California for a month's practice. Friends of the young man at Price believe he is to be heard from next year in league baseball as a pitcher.

On the eve of their departure to take up their residence at Cleveland in Emery county, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Richards of Sunnyside were given a farewell party at the ward meeting house last Friday evening. Elder Richards has been a hard worker in behalf of the church and the large number of people who were present testified to his great popularity in the camp. The evening was pleasantly spent in dancing.

Herman Hordley has left at The Sun office a number of potatoes raised on his place about a mile west of Price that are as fine as any grown hereabouts this season or any previous year. They are of the Early Ohio variety and weigh from two and a half to two and three-quarter pounds each. Several of the spuds are on exhibition in a front window of The Sun building. They run about three hundred bushels to the acre.

Elbert Minor and Elbert Leland, charged with the burglary of Lowenstein's store at Helper on the night of September 25th, had a preliminary hearing at Price last Saturday evening and were held to the district court on the charge of second degree burglary. Their case will come up in the district court next week. At the same time Arthur Healey, charged with robbing the Southern Utah section house at Price, was held to the district court on third degree burglary.

At Salt Lake City last week the state board of education, of which Carl R. Macromsen of Price is a member, granted an extension of a five-year state certificate to Miss Mar-aret Whitting of Helper. F. S. Davies of Price, who formerly was principal of the Castle Gate schools and later at Price, was awarded a five-year certificate. As mentioned in last week's Sun, James N. Ellerton and Ralph H. Walters of the local high school were given high school diplomas.

Those who love the quest for the elusive deer are already on tip-toe for the season, which lasts for seventeen days, opening October 15th (today). There will be considerably less indiscriminate shooting this year, as the law passed by the last legislature provides that only bucks with horns visible may be shot. As deer have propagated to a considerable extent during the last few years there will be ample opportunity for hunters to test their skill this fall, according to Commissioner Chambers.

A. H. Cowie, vice president of the Utah Fuel company, says Sunday's Herald-Republican, who owns several residences at Main and Seventh South, will build a modern two-story brick garage on his property at a cost of about five thousand dollars. The garage will be forty-five by twenty-four feet in size, with a concrete basement. It will be entirely modern throughout. There will be room for four automobiles and a repair shop on the first floor and a modern dwelling apartment for chauffeur on the second floor.

Stella di American, the Italian lodge at Helper, last Tuesday celebrated Columbus Day in a most excellent manner. In the afternoon there was music, speechmaking and a "big feed" in Plaim's Hall. Members of the order and their families were in attendance. In the evening there was a grand ball at Liberty theater to which the public was invited and attended in large numbers. Stella di American is one of the oldest lodges in Carbon county and has done and is doing a good work among its members.

Joseph Turner was sentenced at Provo last Saturday to the state prison for a term of one to ten years, after pleading guilty to burglary in the third degree. He attempted recently to break into two stores there and was caught in the act by two officers. With him in the attempted robbery were Minor and Leland, who were brought here later by Sheriff Henry and have since confessed to the burglary of the Lowenstein store at Helper on the night of the 25th of September. The latter will be tried in district court at Price next week.

C. R. Hope, who lives above Castle Gate near the mouth of Granddall Canyon, shot Nick Dismont through the left shoulder last Sunday at the former's home. The trouble grew out of Dismont's running some goats across and on the property of Hope. It is alleged, Hope also alleges that Dismont struck his (Hope's) wife with a rock and otherwise abused her. Hope was brought to Price last Monday and after being arraigned before Justice Middleton was released on his own recognizance until such time as Dismont is able to appear in court against him.

Grand Junction's Daily News of last Saturday has this item of interest locally: "W. H. Kelso, a well known local man, has just returned from a trip to Cisco and Thompson over the Midland trail in a buggy. He says that the Midland trail is in need of repair in one or two places and badly. He states that two days' work with a man and team would repair all the bad spots and keep the road up to elegant shape. One place in particular he noticed where an accident might happen to a heavy car if repairs are not made. He is going to present his findings to Secretary Anthes upon the return of the latter from Denver."

Councilman James F. Pace of Price has left at The Sun office two clusters, as it were, of potatoes grown on his Gordon Creek ranch, that are a curiosity in the spud line. They are of the Early King variety and must be seen to be appreciated. In one cluster there are nine potatoes and in the other seven. Both grow in one hill and each individual one is plenty large for table use. The seven-cluster weighs five and three-quarter pounds and the nine-cluster an even six pounds. They are on display in a front window of The Sun building and have attracted very much attention during the past few days. Councilman Pace has an excellent crop of the tubers this year.

Says the Fruits (Colo.) Mail of recent date: "Incorporation papers for the Midland Telephone company have been filed with the secretary of state by N. Corbin. The Midland is now complete as far as Cisco and it is Corbin's intention to push the line on westward to Green River and Price as soon as the company is incorporated. The line as it stands today represents an expenditure of thirty-five hundred dollars. The company is being incorporated for twenty-five thousand dollars and the line will be extended on to Green River and Price at once and a branch line will probably be built to Moab and other towns, and also to the various cattle ranches along the route."

J. H. Manson, manager of City Electric company, yesterday closed a deal whereby he becomes the owner of the lot on South Ninth street where the Price Club was formerly conducted. It is Manson's intention to erect there a two-story and basement building for warehouse purposes forty-five by a hundred and twenty-five feet. It will have freight elevators and other modern methods for handling stored goods. "I have all kinds of faith in the future of Price," said he to a Sun representative this morning. The property is reached by a spur of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad that runs into the Smart-Nixon lumber yard. If weather conditions permit, Manson will begin work on the proposed building immediately.

in peace at least for two years. The unstable appetite of the railroads for the money of the shippers and farmers should be stopped. The motion for a rehearing in this case should be dismissed."

Texas Quarantines Cattle.

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 12.—On the recommendation of the live stock sanitary commission, Gov. James E. Ferguson has issued a proclamation placing a quarantine against the importation of cattle, sheep, other ruminants and swine from the state of Illinois to Texas, on account of the prevalence of the foot and mouth disease in that state.

Tubercular Cattle Decrease.

Tubercular dairy cattle have decreased in this state in the last three or four years from 5 per cent of the total number to 1.4 per cent, according to Dr. A. C. Young, state veterinary inspector. Dr. Young has twenty-two inspectors in the field, and his reports that they are doing all in their power to clean up the dairy herds of the state.

Utah Sheepmen Are Happy.

Sheepmen throughout the state are looking forward to an ideal winter range, according to officials of the bureau of animal industry. There are two million, one hundred thousand sheep in Utah, of which one million, six hundred thousand were grazed in the national forests this year, at an average cost of seven cents per head in the owners.

BANNER SHEEP YEAR

Official Reports Scabies Eradicated and Eastern Quarantine Lifted.

Utah is enjoying the best year it has ever known for sheep, according to a report made by A. A. Callister, secretary of the state board of sheep commissioners. He states that sheep in Utah this year are in better shape than to scabies, which have been practically eradicated, since the general order for dipping sheep was issued. The work of dipping out the scabies and ticks, carried on by the department in co-operation with Dr. F. E. Murray of the United States bureau of animal industry, has, he says, practically eradicated the disease, and sheep from Utah for Eastern markets now go without federal inspection.

DUCHESNE WANTS ROUTE IMPROVED THIS WINTER

The Commercial club of Duchesne is asking the Salt Lake City Commercial club to use its influence with the government and state to have the mail route road between Colton and Duchesne improved. Traffic over this line has greatly increased owing to the extension of parcel post business, and unless something is done, schooling will be hard and heavy there this winter. Much of the road lies through a national forest reserve, and the forest service could lend valuable assistance in making the much needed improvement.

NEW MACARONI DEAL

himself up in Salt Lake City and was in Large Concern.

The International Macaroni company of Utah is the name under which the International Macaroni company of Salt Lake City has been reorganized. Articles of incorporation of the new company have just been filed with the secretary of state. The old company had been in operation about a year and the reorganization was effected to permit of addition of capital necessary to take care of the business developed.

The officers of the new company are August Martello of Rock Springs, Wyo., president; Fred Paternoster of Price, vice president; M. Lombardi of Ogden, secretary, and Carl Rogers, treasurer. It is pointed out by those interested in the new company that the interference with exportation of macaroni from Italy by the war has thrown the burden of production upon American manufacturers.

The enlargement of the company's resources is for the purpose of taking advantage of the new impetus which the business has acquired.

LOCAL POLITICS QUIET

Not Much Interest Being Shown By Price Party Men.

Thomas F. Keller, chairman, and J. A. Crockett, secretary of the previous organization of the democracy, issued a call for a primary at the county court house last Wednesday evening. Not a single member of the party showing up at that hour, the meeting was called off at a quarter past 8 o'clock. One faction of the party claims this as the regular organization, while still another faction does not recognize it as such. The republicans have issued a call and are to hold their primary at City Hall next Monday evening at 4 o'clock. As The Sun goes to press this (Friday) morning no call has been issued for a primary by the other faction of local democrats, but it is expected this will be for next Monday evening, the last date on which nominations may be filed.

It is expected that the democrats also "fall through" will combine at the last minute as a "citizens' ticket" against the republicans.

COLUMBUS DAY OBSERVED SATURDAY AT SUNNYSIDE

SUNNYSIDE, Oct. 14.—The Sunnyside branch of the Italian and Austrian fraternal order, Edvianziani, celebrated Columbus Day last Saturday evening at Knights of Pythias Hall here. There was a large attendance of the members who were accompanied by their wives and sweethearts and the evening was spent with dancing. A collection was served. The lodge has a membership of about a hundred and fifty and is growing rapidly.
